

During the 18th Century Melbourne Lodge was home to some of the most important occupants of the Brocket Hall Estate - the horses. This was the stable block, which provided the tireless steeds that not only took the Hall's residents and guests hunting but also provided the interest on race days on the private racecourse that once circled the Estate.

Today, Melbourne Lodge's most important occupants are its guests. Beautifully restored with 16 luxurious en-suite rooms, all superbly appointed and with magnificent views over Brocket Hall, the Broadwater Lake and the Melbourne Championship golf course. To enable diners to relax and savour our two fabulous restaurants on the Estate, we have introduced five exciting "Dine and Stay" packages that will surely tempt you to really make a night of it...

enjoy dinner, breakfast and even a round of golf...

Auberge du Lac Restaurant
Formerly the Estate's Hunting Lodge, now under the guidance of Phil Thompson, Executive Chef. This superb restaurant has gained a national reputation as one of the most interesting out-of-London restaurants in the country. Its' famed cuisine and renowned cellar have made it a 'destination restaurant' amongst discerning diners.

Auberge du Lac and The Golf Club share one of the most impressive wine lists imaginable. Our experienced Sommelier is always available to advise and guide you through these fine wines.

Al Fresco Dining
Weather permitting, there is nothing more romantic than a candlelit dinner on the banks of the Broadwater Lake with the majestic backdrop of Brocket Hall.

Watershyppes Restaurant at Brocket Hall Golf Club
Take your aperitif on the terrace, buzzing with the day's golfing adventures and dine as the sun goes down over the Estate.

Brocket Hall Golf Club and the Faldo Golf Institute
There are two Championship courses to choose from, The Melbourne and The Palmerston. The Club House has excellent stylish facilities, providing both exclusivity and flexibility. The first "Faldo Golf Institute" in Europe offers highly experienced tuition on how to play each hole the 'Faldo' way.

What a view to wake up to!
Take a walk or a jog before breakfast on this historic 543 acre country Estate.
